

Búsqueda bibliográfica para el proyecto de investigación “El capitalismo después de la crisis financiera de 2008. Prospectiva desde la competencia entre las corporaciones gigantes”

Objetivo

Como parte del trabajo realizado para el proyecto “El capitalismo después de la crisis financiera de 2008. Prospectiva desde la competencia entre las corporaciones gigantes” (Proyecto PAPIIT IN-302215), que pretende realizar una lectura, casi al paso de una década, de la llamada crisis financiera de 2008, misma que en el marco del proyecto catalogamos como crisis sistémica o civilizatoria y tomamos como eje de análisis a la competencia entre las empresas más importantes del mundo, se ha realizado una búsqueda bibliográfica extensiva sobre el tema en las bibliotecas: de la Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, el Colegio de México (Daniel Cosío Villegas), el Congreso de Estados Unidos (United States Library of Congress); así como en los catálogos editoriales de Cambridge (Cambridge University Library) y Harvard (Harvard Library).

La búsqueda fue dirigida por palabras clave que en un contexto general nos dirigieran al tema de investigación, las cuáles son: empresa transnacional / multinacional; corporación transnacional / multinacional; economía mundial / global y; crisis / crisis mundial / crisis global.

El resultado se presenta a continuación:
